

Canadian Heritage

Patrimoine
canadien

Canada

(CO) Commerce

Some relevant fields of study: science, business administration, law, natural sciences, arts and culture, social science and humanities, economics and commerce, international trade, economic development.

Our commerce specialists help promote cultural industries in a range of markets. Their key roles and duties include:

- Business development
- Analyzing business intelligence and foreign market information
- Developing policy
- Negotiating
- Network-building
- Providing advice and recommendations to senior management
- Analyzing trade arrangements and their impact on Canada's economy
- Taking part in trade delegations

Salaries range from $50,921 to $111,629 (CO-01 to CO-04)
Effective June 22, 2010

